

Payment terms

Payment terms are an important part of international investment contracts and need to be traded in accordance with formal funding channels:

1. Bank card quick payment: This is a simple, fast and efficient payment method

2. Cryptocurrency trading and exchange: All major exchanges around the world support cryptocurrency trading. It is the most widely used and more liquid payment method, a convenient and secure trading method, and is suitable for investors from all over the world

Select and use various payment methods, considering factors such as ensuring fund security and accelerating fund turnover. In order to efficiently improve the utilization rate of funds, low-cost and high-security fund access methods or channels should be selected for investment

Payment terms include the following:

(i) Payment currency

In most cases, the payment currency is the pricing currency, but there are also cases where the pricing currency is inconsistent with the payment currency. Investors need to exchange through their own currencies and choose the currencies supported by our platform for investment. There is a potential possibility of exchange rate increases or decreases in currency exchange, but the fluctuation is generally small, so there is no need to worry too much

(ii) Payment amount

Usually, the payment amount is the total amount of the planned investment, but there are also cases where the pricing currency amount is inconsistent with the payment currency amount. That is because different currencies need to be exchanged in equal amounts and should be exchanged according to the real-time changing exchange rate. Generally, the exchange rate fluctuation will not be large. Investors should pay attention to the changes in the foreign exchange market and exchange currencies at the right time.
